Speaker Series

Five Key Steps to Fostering Character During the College Years

Dr. Arthur Schwartz

May 21, 2024

3:30-5:00 p.m. Mother Teresa Hall

Is college too late to educate students for character? Haven't college students already developed their moral compass? Dr. Arthur Schwartz, president of Character.org, will address these questions as well as highlighting 5 steps that every college and university should take to cultivate a culture of character formation during the college years. This event will be open to the entire graduate campus community, all faculty, staff, and students.
